Woodridge Companies Offering Job Opportunities

Greencore and Follett Education Services offering temporary and full-time positions in Woodridge

(Woodridge, IL) - Over the next month two major Woodridge companies are looking to hire approximately 125 positions, including both part time and fulltime positions.

Greencore is part of a leading international manufacturer of convenience foods that employs approximately 11,000 people worldwide. The Woodridge facility currently employs 250 people in a variety of job roles, from entry level food production and delivery to quality control and management. As a product of its recent growth, Greencore is currently recruiting 15-20 new employees to support expanded production. More information can be found on the Greencore website at www.greencore.com. Greencore is also taking applications at their facility located at 10350 Argonne Drive, Suite 400 Woodridge, IL 60517.

Follett Education Services is one of the top distributor of textbooks and classroom literature in North America. Follett has 100 immediate temporary job opportunities available in their warehouse. The Temporary Warehouse Associates work in the distribution facility and may perform the following responsibilities: sort, stock, process inventory and shipping and receiving functions. If you are interested, please apply online at www.follett.com or stop by the office to fill out an electronic application at 1433 Internationale Parkway, Woodridge, IL 60517.
